Jeffrey Glassman is a business attorney with the law firm of Moldo Davidson Fraioli Seror & Sestanovich LLP in Century City. During the 1990s, he worked for the U.S. Trade Representative before joining a Top 50 law firm in Washington, D.C. Then, during the dot-com boom, he became General Counsel to a high-tech startup in San Francisco. Today, he is outside general counsel to a wide variety of emerging growth and middle market companies. His practice includes corporate and securities law, M&A, protecting and licensing intellectual property, and structuring and negotiating critical agreements with employees and third parties. Recently, he assisted a client with a $43 million acquisition of the Queen Mary and adjacent 55 acres of land in Long Beach.

The attorneys featured in Rising Stars for 2008 were selected from the results of an extensive nomination and polling process and through independent research conducted by Law & Politics and published in the July 2008 issue of Southern California Super Lawyers - Rising Stars Edition and a special advertising section in the July 2008 issue of Los Angeles magazine. Among the best in their profession, Rising Stars are limited to 2.5% of the outstanding emerging lawyers in Southern California who are age 40 and under, or have been practicing 10 years or less.
